Information On The Rebranding

Overall

Enclosed within this document are the comprehensive updates to my branding strategy for both my website and overarching brand identity. This marks a significant milestone as it represents one of the most extensive brand redesigns I have undertaken to date. Changing my typography, an updated color palette, and new and updated gradients. Furthermore, a fresh logo design and title logos will be unveiled as part of this rebranding initiative. These enhancements are envisioned to enhance my brand with a heightened sense of professionalism while resonating more deeply with my passion for web development.

Typography

Having long relied on Lato and Lato 2 across various iterations of my website, I subsequently integrated Playfair Display for headline fonts. However, with the advent of Branding 5.0, the typographic landscape now features Noto Sans (body text), Noto Serif (headings), Noto Mono (code snippets), and Noto Color Emoji (for emojis).

Colour Palette

The Lima (#6acc1b) green hue has been phased out from the core branding colours. When green is needed within my website, Lima (#6acc1b) remains the designated choice. The background colour on my website will now be in Mirage (#1e192a), while text elements will be rendered in the hue of Wild Sand (#f4f4f4).

Logo Design

My new logo is inspired by the ending of a coding tag. Furthermore, the logo has an uppercase D and L, which happen to be my initials (they are reversed though). With this logo, it also allows me to extend the bottom line of the back slash/backwards L to allow me to use it as an underline for my title logo with my name. Which further brings the logo and title together. The new logo also features the new subtle gradients for purple and orange, as well as the new Tolopea (#30243c) drop shadow.
